Report on Agriculture.

First One Issued From the New Department.

THE WORK OF THE PAST YEAR.

Secretary Rusk Asks for More Liberal Appropriations That Several More New Features May be Added to the Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The annual report of Secretary Rusk, of the department of agriculture, and the first issued under the newly constituted department, has been made public. The secretary makes the usual references to the work of the several scientific and other divisions in his department, and, in addition, he deals at length with certain plans for the thorough reorganization of the department of agriculture, and suggests several new features in the interest of the development of agriculture.

The report calls attention to the fact that the first efforts towards a reorganization were hampered because of the surprising fact that the appropriations for the current fiscal year, were made entirely upon the basis of the old organization, no account being taken of the entire change in the status of the department. The secretary insists upon the necessity for his relief from this embarrassment, and for adequate appropriations to enable him to meet what he believes to be the obligations of the department to the country.

The secretary anticipates a portion of his plan of reorganization in the estimate for the forthcoming fiscal year, $1,359,000. He says that the aggregate sum asked for in his estimates must not be measured by what is past, but by what a great agricultural country should do toward "sustaining, projecting and promoting a calling which lies at the foundation of its prosperity and power." A striking contrast is drawn between this amount and the appropriations for agriculture made by those countries which the report says "are the most active competitors of American farmers in the world's market." A comparison shows that Great Britain appropriates for agriculture $1,500,000; Germany, $2,800,000; Brazil, $20,000,000 for agriculture and mines; France, $8,000,000, and Austria more than $4,000,000.

Considerable space is devoted to the work of the division of statistics. The crop reporting system, he says, while approximate and valuable, is in danger of becoming discredited by the popular acceptance of its results as exact in precision and absolute in authority. It should be remembered that they are not the conclusions of a thorough census, though they may be far better than the work of a poor census; that they are the consolidation of local estimates of agricultural experts, and are intended as a foil to the interested, biased and untruthful statements that speculators issue to mislead their victims.

Of the rapid development of agriculture in the Rocky mountain districts, the secretary says that the division of statistics has been directed to investigate their resources with all the facilities at its command. "The results," he adds, "will surprise the eastern states with new views of the wealth and progress of the great American desert of the recent past."

The condition of the sugar industry is reviewed in detail and the results declared to be of a mixed character, in some cases yielding well and in other cases proving disappointing. The region where the sorghum sugar industry may be attended with success, has been localized in the southern part of central Kansas, west and south of Wichita and in parts of the Indian territory resembling it in soil and climate. There are, perhaps, other parts of the United States, where similar success could be secured but these have not been pointed out. Special attention is to be given to the development of varieties of sorghum containing a higher content of available sugar. Important progress has already been made in this direction.

Many localities in the United States, especially in the north and on the Pacific coast, are known to be especially suitable to the production of a sugar beet rich in saccharine matter. The interest in this subject developed by the successful experiments in California will be met by the publication during the coming winter of a full report on the beet sugar industry in the United States.

The report urges the duty of the government to assume a more definite supervision of such forest areas as are still owned by it, and as occupy a position of importance in the regulation of waterflow, and of other climatic conditions, and emphasizes the importance of the relations which the forests bear to the problem of irrigation in the arid lands and of their immense annual product.

The subject of agricultural organizations is dwelt upon earnestly, their astonishing growth during the past few years being cited as strong evidence of the growth of the spirit of self-help among the farmers. The farmers' institutes are referred to particularly as one of the greatest movements in the history of agriculture, and as the strongest lever for raising and upholding the work of superior agricultural education represented by our system of agricultural colleges and experiment stations. The secretary recommends, without going into details, that the department should be empowered to afford aid and encouragement to this work.

Pleuro-pneumonia naturally is first noticed, the situation being regarded as most encouraging. Thanks to the vigilance and vigorous measures which have been exercised, this disease is now effectually under control and restricted to Kings and Queens counties in New York state, to New Jersey, and a limited section in each of the states of Pennsylvania and Maryland. A careful review of the field, together with the arrangements made for the supervision of the limited districts still infected, justify, in the secretary's opinion, "the most sanguine hopes" in regard to the proximate complete eradication of the disease. Texas fever, says the report, is generally spread through the channels of interstate commerce, and therefore can only be effectually controlled by the Federal government, hence the necessity of legislation which shall be ample and clearly defined.

The language used by Secretary Rusk in regard to a National meat inspection law is pointed and vigorous. The necessity for inspection at time of slaughter, he says, is first to enable the authorities to promptly locate any cattle disease centers, and secondly to avoid the anomaly of leaving the inspection of our own meat products to the officials of other countries, thus giving foreign governments some show of reason for the claim, that they have better opportunities for learning of disease among American cattle than are enjoyed by our own government. He accordingly advocates "such an amendment to the law under which the bureau is at present organized as will provide for such official National inspection as shall guarantee the fitness of our meat products for food consumption under the seal of the United States government."

Authority and means are also desired to enable the department to exercise a close supervision of the economic side of the cattle markets, the characteristics of stock commanding the highest prices, variations as to age, weight and quality and all facts bearing upon the cattle industry, which will enable the bureau to supply the farmers such information as it is impossible for them to obtain for themselves.

Sheep and wool receive special consideration in the report. The growth of the mutton interest is referred to as one to be encouraged. As to wool growing the reduction of the tariff in 1883 is earnestly deplored. To it is attributed the great reduction in the number of sheep which has since then fallen off by about 7,000,000 head, while the importation of wool has increased from 78,350,651 pounds in 1884 to 126,487,729 pounds the past year. "On behalf of this industry," says the secretary, "I commend these facts to you and should they be submitted to congress, I ask for them intelligent and careful consideration."

Figures are submitted in the report showing the importance of agriculture which produces an annual yield of nearly $4,000,000,000, employing on the 5,000,000 farms 10,000,000 persons, representing a population of 30,000,000 people, while the value of live stock alone is estimated at $2,507,000,000. Agriculture underlies all other industries, it alone making our vast commerce possible and rendering the product of our mines valuable, assigns to it the first place in considering the well being and prosperity of the country.

Referring to agricultural depression the report does not undertake the delicate duty of our legislators in diagnosing its causes and analyzing proposed panaceas, but the right of farmers to the fullest enjoyment, compatible with the rights of his fellow-citizens is insisted upon. "For all such articles as our own soil can produce the farmer justly asks that protection which will insure to him all the benefits of our home market."

The secretary closes his report with this earnest exhortation: "The great nations of Europe strain every nerve to make science the handmaid of war; let it be the glory of the American people to make science the handmaid of agriculture."

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED.

Several Passengers Injured by an Accident Near Brownwood, Texas.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4.—The Times-Democrat's Brownwood, Tex., special says: The southbound Santa Fe passenger train, consisting of five coaches and two baggage cars, were wrecked Sunday morning three miles south of Brownwood. Several passengers were injured, four seriously. The two rear chair coaches were thrown down a fifteen-foot embankment, landing bottom up. They were full of passengers, who were piled together with the chairs lying on top of them. They screamed for help, and the windows had to be broken open to get them out. One of the coaches caught on fire three times, but the flames were promptly extinguished.

T. P. Jones, of Belleville, Ill., was left at Zephyr in a dying condition. Mrs. Henry Mason, of Austin, and Alex. George, of Friedland, are two of those fatally injured.

A second lady, whose name is not known, was also fatally hurt. Most of the wounded are from San Antonio, Caldwell and Dallas, Tex., and were returning from the San Antonio fair. The train was packed to its fullest capacity.

The following are among the injured: W. A. Spangh, Miss Lula Ball, Mrs. McGee, Bettie Baker, D. Boone, A. Rouse, Miss Lillie Mills, Miss G. E. Briggs, Francis Howard, F. F. Dillon, Ed. Cox, Dr. J. B. Taylor, I. Martin and Frank Harris.

A broken rail is said to have caused the accident.

Accidentally Shot a Woman.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 4.—John Shubert accidentally shot and killed Mrs. Pauline Hagley at the Woman's home Saturday night. Shubert had been out hunting, and Mrs. Hagley was teasing him because he had failed to shoot any rabbits. Shubert pointed his gun at her and it was discharged and the woman fell dead. Shubert immediately surrendered himself to the authorities and a coroner's jury afterward rendered a verdict of accidental shooting.

Still More Evidence

That Martin Burke Rented the Carlson Cottage.

THREE WITNESSES EXAMINED.

Young Carlson and His Mother and Expressman Martinsen, Who Hauled the Furniture—Each Point Out Burke in the Court Room—Two Meetings Held in Chicago, One to Raise Funds for the Prosecution and the Other for the Defense.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—When Judge McConnell's court opened Saturday in the Cronin case it was plainly evident that Kunze was quite ill. He looked very bad as he lay back on his pillow in the big rocking chair in the prisoner's row. His doctor, however, said he was on the mend and that it was not likely that court would be compelled to adjourn on his account.

Charles J. Carlson, son of the owner of the Carlson cottage, was the first witness. He testified as follows: "I was sitting with my wife and my father in the house in the rear of 1873 Ashland avenue in the forenoon, some time about the 20th of March last, when there was a knock on the door, and a gentleman came in and said he wanted to rent the house. The stranger said that he expected some brothers and a sister from Baltimore to come and keep house with him. He said he would move in a week or so, when his sister would come from Baltimore. He gave his name as Frank Williams. Subsequently he brought the furniture. Williams came again April 29 to pay the second month's rent. I never saw Williams again until I saw him in Winnipeg."

"Can you point out Frank Williams in the court room?"

"Yes, sir."

"Point him out, please."

"The second one there," (pointing to Martin Burke).

Kunze was pointed out to him by the counsel for the state, but the witness could not identify him as any one he had ever seen before.

The witness was subjected to a long cross-examination, which did not develop any new facts.

Johanna Carlson, mother of the previous witness, was then called to the stand. She corroborated the testimony of the other members of her family. The only time she saw the man who rented the cottage and called himself Frank Williams was when he called to pay the second month's rent on April 20, except when she was taken to the county jail to identify Burke after his return from Winnipeg. When asked to identify the lessee of the cottage the old lady without hesitancy pointed directly at Burke. This was the third identification of Burke by the Carlson family, but beyond a flush on his face he did not seem affected by it.

Mr. Forrest's cross-examination did not at all affect Mrs. Carlson's testimony.

Hakan Martinsen, the expressman who hauled the furniture from 117 Clark street, was the next and last witness of the day. He, too, recognized Burke as the man who hired him to do the work, and with the aid of another stranger assisted him in loading and unloading the goods. The bloody trunk was again brought into court, and the witness said it was exactly like the one he hauled. Martinsen saw Burke three or four times afterward, passing his stand at Chicago avenue and Market street, and again at Winnipeg. Burke seemed more worried over his identification by this witness than by any of the preceding witnesses. He flushed very red and looked troubled, and ever after kept a steady gaze on the expressman.

The cross-examination simply developed the fact that Martinsen had received pay while in the care of the police, and that now he has a city job, taking care of horses in a patrol stable.

Meeting of Cronin's Clan-na-Gael Friends.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Dr. Cronin's Clan-na-Gael friends, who are preparing to add to the prosecution fund by means of the annual Irish Manchester martyr celebration to be held Nov. 13, heard the report of their committee Sunday afternoon at the Grand Pacific. A letter enclosing $120 for the prosecution fund, from the Celtic club of Rochester, N. Y., was read. After various committees on arrangements had reported progress, P. W. Duine arose and said:

"There is a demand for decided action by this body. Dr. O'Reilly and Col. Atkin, of Detroit, have gone to Ireland. It is not possible they had no object in view, and I move we send a cablegram to Parnell at once to advise him of their true mission. The opposition, the murderers of Dr. Cronin and the arch-fiend back of it all have sent them there to poison the minds of our race. They are now trying to find support in the old country, and if we don't let our countrymen know who they are and what they are there for, we will suffer for it. We are already misunderstood, and Parnell ought to be advised to have nothing to do with them until he hears from the meeting of the 23d."

"That's right," said P. O. O'Connor, "four-fifths of the people are mystified that they believe there was justification in the murder of Dr. Cronin, and that he was a spy. The man we know to be responsible for his murder, and who has long been the plunderer and spoiler of his people, is their demigod. The Irish people can't believe that he can be guilty of such a crime, and they look upon us with contempt for prosecuting patriots who they believe put to death spies. These men who have gone to Ireland know what they are about, and they will get aid, either of a sentimental or a financial kind, to buy the acquittal of the tools of the arch fiend."

The suggestion was opposed by John Devoy on the ground that the coming event was a celebration of a revolutionary measure, and a communication from it to Parnell might embarrass that leader by connecting him with it.

Dr. Cronin's Enemies Meet.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—About one hundred of the Clan-na-Gael enemies of Dr. Cronin attended an open meeting at McCoy's hotel Sunday afternoon for the purpose of raising a defense fund for the men now on trial. Money to the amount of $376 was subscribed, and a committee appointed to solicit subscriptions.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

The McCoy's and Hatfield Factions Meet Again With Deadly Results.

MILTON, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Reports of another battle between the Hatfields and McCoy's reached here. Friday night a party of about thirty of the McCoy's came across Blumfield camp in the woods about six miles from Green Shoals. Both bands were bound for the headquarters of their respective factions, and were heavily armed. When the McCoy's discovered their enemies they sent out scouts and discovered that there were about a score in the camp. They crawled up through the dense underbrush and poured in a volley on their sleeping foes. In an instant it was returned and the Hatfields, although taken by surprise, were so much better armed than the McCoy's, having repeating rifles, that they soon put them to flight.

The one volley fired by the McCoy's did terrible execution. Half a dozen men were wounded and two were slain. John Blumfield one of the leaders of his faction, was instantly killed. By his side lay Edwin Brown, the son of the woman who was shot in her farm house at Fudge's creek. Two bullets had gone through his body, one piercing his heart. Six other men were wounded, one of them, whose name is unknown, being fatally hurt. After dawn the Hatfields found two more dead men and four desperately wounded men were captured. Some of the wounded McCoy's must have been carried off by their friends, for the trail of their retreat through the woods was marked with blood stains.

The prisoners captured are Charles Ambkin, John Cain, — Cain and Pete McCoy. The names of the dead are unknown. The Cain whose first name was not learned was so badly wounded that his captors left him to die where he lay, but the other three were compelled to march to the Hatfield headquarters, which they reached about noon. As soon as the story of the attack and capture was told, a sort of courtmartial was held. The prisoners were not allowed to speak in their own defense, and after a short deliberation a vote was taken on their life or death by the entire Hatfield party. The result was unanimous that the three men be tied to trees and shot.

The courier who brought this news was shot at twice from ambush while riding through Lincoln county.

The Reports Denied.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 4.—A reliable citizen just arrived from the neighborhood of Lincoln county, where the alleged warfare exists, says that most of the reports sent out from Huntington and other points near there are purely imaginary. He says the people are not armed nor divide into factions, and that McCoy and Hale are the only two persons killed at any time since the trouble began.

SUFFERING AND ROBBERY.

Brutal Treatment of an Aged Couple By a Band of Burglars.

HUME, Mo., Nov. 4.—One of the most savage crimes on record in this section of Missouri was committed last night at Jackson Crossroads, six miles south of here. Burglars entered the residence of Jasper James about 10 o'clock and demanded that he tell them where he had hidden his savings. This he refused to do, and failing to bring James to terms the robbers attempted to terrorize his wife, but were unsuccessful. Becoming convinced that threats would not work, the thieves tied the husband and wife together, back to back. Each in turn were pricked with pins and burned about the head and face with matches.

Finally Mr. James fainted from the terrible treatment to which he had been subjected. The suffering wife, believing that her husband was dead and that her life would also be taken unless she gave her assailants the information sought, told the thieves where $400 was concealed. The robbers secured the booty, untied their victims and departed. Mrs. James labored for some time to resuscitate her husband, and when she had restored him to consciousness she fell exhausted to the floor and died shortly afterwards. James is 65 years old, and his wife was only two years younger.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—All the east and west railroads have put forth every effort to reduce time on through trips, but hitherto but little attention has been paid toward rapid transit between the south and the northwest. The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and Monon routes have made a big step in this direction, and begin to-day to send their two daily vestibuled trains through between Chicago and Cincinnati in ten hours.

Barrel Manufacturers Assign.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 4.—Bell & Company, extensive barrel and keg manufacturers, of this city, has assigned. Assets $149,999; liabilities $84,000. The firm asked their creditors for an extension of five years which to pay their debts. A committee of creditors was appointed to consider the proposition of appointing a trustee.

FORAKER'S fate will be settled to-morrow.

HON. JOHN M. LANGSTON, the colored orator from Virginia, failed to show up at Ripley Friday and the Republican blow-out was a failure.

JUDGING from newspaper talk both political parties will carry Ohio to-morrow. That's an impossibility though, and if the nominees are as confident as their party organs say they are, bitter disappointment is in store for some one.

TEN States hold elections to-morrow, but public interest attaches only to those in Ohio, Virginia and New York. The fight is warmest in Ohio and Virginia, and the times will be exceedingly lively in the Old Dominion and the Buckeye State.

H. C. SMITH, a prominent attorney of West Union, has deserted the g. o. p. and gone over to the Prohibs. For many years he has been Secretary of the Republican Executive Committee, but he could no longer affiliate with a party of third-termers.

On the eve of the election in Ohio the Butler mascot seems to have the best of the fight. He has been giving Foraker "the hot end of the poker" for weeks. If this doesn't prove a Democratic year in the Buckeye State "the signs of the times" are away off.

Internal Revenue Collections.

The internal revenue collections in this district for the month of October were as follows:

Liquor	154 31
Beer	129 50
Spirits	106,916 70
Cigars	1,162 35

Total.....$ 116,179 82
 For the past four months.....781,811 96

Gain over October, 1888.....$ 4,438 91

At this point Deputy Robert L. Baldwin reports the collections as follows:

Spirit stamps	$8,354 70
Cigar stamps	894 61
Tobacco stamps	1 05
Special tax stamps	42 89

Total.....$9,393 74

KENTUCKY CROPS.

Monthly Report of the State Commissioner of Agriculture.

Mr. Chas. Y. Wilson, State Commissioner of Agriculture, in his report for the month ending Oct. 31st, says:

In my report of October 10, 1889, I gave the general condition of all Kentucky crops, the most of which had been gathered, and were safe from ordinary disaster.

Wheat—The fall seeding of wheat began September 10th, and progressed without interruption until completed. This season has been remarkably favorable for the preparation of the seed, the soil being well broken and thoroughly pulverized. Seeding was delayed in some sections for want of moisture. On the 21st of October we had a good general rain, and the wheat is now all up and never looked more favorable. The acreage for 1889 is about 10 per cent. increase over 1888. The only hindrance has been the extraordinary amount of weeds and filth on the ground, which has compelled many farmers to broadcast instead of drilling.

Tobacco—This crop is now safely housed, and is free from future danger by reason of weather conditions.

In the dark tobacco section of the State careful estimates place the damage by frost on the hill at 8 1/4 per cent., with considerable damage from barn freezing.

In the Burley counties the damage from frost was comparatively light, not exceeding 2 per cent. The reason of this difference is in the fact that the Burley matured earlier and most of it had been housed before the frost.

We have been unable to get the percentage of damage by barn freezing, in either section of the State, but all tobacco that was green and in open barns at the time of the freeze, is more or less injured. From careful inquiry the average yield of tobacco per acre, in the State in '89, was 775 lbs.

The acreage of Burley tobacco is about 10 per cent. more than the acreage of Dark; that is the Burley acreage is about 68 1/4 per cent. of the '88 acreage and the Dark about 66 1/4 per cent. of that of '88, making a total aggregate in '89 of 62 1/2 per cent. of the '88 acreage.

From our correspondents we gather the following as to the yield, per acre, of the crops mentioned:

Corn, bushels per acre	32
Irish potatoes, bushels per acre	88
Sweet potatoes, bushels per acre	85
Tobacco, pounds per acre	778
Hay, tons per acre	1 1/4
Sorghum molasses, gallons per acre	115
Wheat, bushels per acre	12 1/2

No other crop reports will be made during the winter, except as to the condition of wheat.

Settled in Full for State Taxes.

Sheriff Alexander was one of the first to settle in full with the Commonwealth for the State taxes this year. The amount was $43,092.54, and his check for the last of this sum was forwarded to Frankfort Thursday, October 31st.

The Triple Alliance.

It is the One Subject of Discussion

BY ALL THE GREAT POWERS.

The Czar Suspicious of an Unfriendly Purpose on the Part of the Alliance, and Serious Trouble May Result in the Near Future—Other Foreign Dispatches.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—While there is the usual amount of curiosity as to the conference between Prince Bismarck and Count Kaluokv, it seems certain that the only subject of discussion which could have brought about the meeting at this time is the triple alliance. The only room for speculation is as to the exact effect of the exchange of views between the two premiers.

Germany has already, according to semi-official announcements, induced Austria to adopt a more conciliatory attitude toward Russia, in order to remove all possible excuse for the Czar's suspicion of an unfriendly purpose on the part of the alliance. But if the latest advices from St. Petersburg are to be trusted, the czar has, since his return to the Russian capital, and listened with credulity to the fanatical assertions of the Pan-Slavists, and is once more ready to believe, with or without evidence, that the hand of every European power except France is against Russia.

The good effect produced on the czar's mind by Prince Bismarck's assurances and arguments during his visit to Berlin are thus, it seems, likely to be obliterated by the influences to which he is permanently subjected, and it is considered probable that Prince Bismarck will impress upon Count Kaluokv the necessity of making allowance for a constantly hostile attitude on the part of Russia. The exertions which Emperor William is making to gain the personal friendship of the sultan will, if successful, go very far toward neutralizing the effects of the unfavorable stand taken by Russia, and will relieve the dreibund from much of its present embarrassment in respect to the eastern situation.

It is given out that the emperor was surprised at the military strength displayed by the sultan in the welcome accorded him. Whether the German monarch was really surprised may well be doubted, for he is as well acquainted with the size of the armies and navies as his neighbors are with that of his own. But under present circumstances he was doubtless well pleased to have ocular proof of a good degree of strength on Turkey's part, for it may become to Germany's interest to have Turkey as strong as possible, in playing her off against Russia. A good understanding between Berlin and Constantinople would also be another bond of good feeling between England and Germany, for nothing would please the English bondholder more than to have another great power interested in maintaining Turkey as an independent nation until her securities are all paid.

Germany's Ruler in Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 4.—Soon after his arrival at the Yildiz Kiosk, Emperor William witnessed a parade of the Turkish troops. He complimented the sultan upon the appearance of the men, and especially praised the artillery. The sultan afterward held a grand banquet in honor of the emperor, and a state reception followed, at which the chief officers of the Ottoman empire were presented to the German ruler. Yesterday Emperor William and suite attended the Protestant church, and took luncheon at the German embassy. Last night the emperor gave a banquet at the Yildiz Kiosk to the Turkish dignitaries, and afterward held a reception chatting affably with many of the notable guests.

Stanley Heard From Again.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Mr. McKinnon has received the following advices from Zanzibar: Letters from Stanley, dated Victoria, Nyanza, Aug. 29, have been received. Stanley had with him Emin Bay, Casati, Marco, a Greek merchant; Osman Effendi Hassan, a Tunisian apothecary; Stoira Nelson, Jephson, Parke, Bonny and 800 people, accompanying him toward Mpwahwa. All were well. There were reports that Wadelai had been taken by the Mahdists.

There May Not Be a Strike.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—There is a disagreement among the leaders of the London lightermen's strike and it is possible that the proposed movement will be abandoned. Some of the leaders are satisfied to accept the concessions which it is known can be obtained beforehand, while others favor striking in the hope of more considerable gains. The disagreement will probably be overcome soon. Another immense meeting of the men was held yesterday.

Bulgarian Sobranje Opened.

SOFIA, Nov. 4.—Prince Ferdinand opened the Bulgarian sobranje in person. In his address he dwelt with pleasure upon the passage in the recent address from the throne to the Austrian reichsrath expressing approval of Bulgarian progress.

Result of the Glasgow Disaster.

GLASGOW, Nov. 4.—The queen has telegraphed a message of sympathy for the families of those killed by the crushing in of the rear of the carpet factory. The number of dead is officially stated as twenty-nine.

LONDON'S Retiring Lord Mayor Honored.
 LONDON, Nov. 4.—The queen has conferred the title of baronet upon Hon. James Whitehead, the retiring lord mayor.

A LESSON FOR LYNCHERS.

The Pugh Brothers Sent Up From Flemingsburg Convicted on Perjured Testimony.

Readers of the BULLETIN are no doubt still familiar with the facts in the case of Commonwealth against Grant and Elihu Pugh, who were convicted at Flemingsburg about a year ago, and sent to the penitentiary for twenty years for rape. A special says it was developed Friday they were convicted on manufactured and perjured testimony; that the alleged victim was a notorious woman who now consorts with low colored courtesans to whom she confessed her schemes, and they have been verified by careful investigation.

There was an epidemic of criminal assaults in Fleming at the time, no less than eight being committed in thirty days, and the public mind was violently inflamed. One night a mob broke into the jail at that place. They secured but one of the prisoners—a negro charged with rape. He was taken to a bridge near the town limits and strung up. The Pugh brothers, however, were brought here for safe keeping and lodged in the Maysville jail until the next term of court, when their trial resulted as above stated. While here they were seen by a representative of the BULLETIN and protested their innocence, asserting that the woman had accused them falsely. But little attention, however, was paid to their protestations at the time. The recent developments have put a new phase on the case though, and the Governor will be appealed to at once to pardon them. The petition is signed by all the magistrates of Fleming County, ten of the jury who convicted, one being dead and the other removed, and the county and district attorney who prosecuted.

Commenting on the case the Cincinnati Po says: "The men have served but a few months of their twenty years' sentence, and now by the confession of their accuser they are found to be innocent. The application is obvious. If the mob had succeeded in murdering two innocent men in the blind fury of the moment their consciences must have been most unpleasant companions henceforth."

We understand that Miss Sue Hunter will soon go to Bourbon County to take charge of a school near her uncle's, Mr. Jas. Hunter. She will be missed by all.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Selby sympathize with them in the loss of their little girl, by croup. The little one was buried Friday in the Catholic cemetery.

Geo. Humphreys has returned to "Wood-side" after a visit to his sister, Mrs. LaRue, at Shawhan. We are sorry to hear that this most excellent lady is in very poor health.

How a good and honored man, who has a drunken son, from whom he expected better things, is to be commiserated! And all this that a few men may grow rich at the vile traffic in rum.

All honor to the church that shows itself foremost in the work of temperance by purging itself of those who sell and drink the vile stuff, no matter how much they may contribute to its support.

A great ripple was raised near here the other day that a man had been found dead, to all appearances, in his wagon, with which he had been working. The doctor was hurriedly summoned, neighbors rushed in, only to find him dead—drunk.

We are so sorry to hear of the death of General James Goggin, of Austin, Texas. His accomplished daughter was visiting here only a few weeks since. He was the last of the sons, we believe, of a large family, which was very prominent in Virginia. Col. W. L. Goggin, who was the last Whig candidate for Governor of that State, was a man of as fine presence as we ever met.

THE Ripley Bee says: "The grand jury failed to find a bill against City Marshal, J. W. Thompson and Deputy, James Long, for killing William Fry, while resisting arrest."

THE NEW BEE HIVE, ROSENAU BROTHERS, PROPS.

EXCOMMUNICATED.

A Divorced Catholic Who Wedded and Was Denounced by the Archbishop.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Hageman, a middle-aged woman living at Westport, near Kingston, procured a divorce from her husband some years ago, and subsequently was married by a Protestant minister to a well-to-do farmer named Quinley. Archbishop Cleary, in confirming a number of applicants, took occasion to denounce from the pulpit in most vigorous terms what he termed a most grievous public scandal.

He said a married woman, baptized and confirmed in the faith, has been notoriously defying the laws of God and the holy church by living with a man not her husband. Four times had the archbishop formally admonished the woman to no purpose. She has offered as a pretext of justification a bill of divorce from her husband, procured in some court in the United States. There is no such thing, he declared, as divorce under the Christian law. The woman was then formally excommunicated by the archbishop, who explained the penalties attached thereto. It is said more excommunications for a similar cause will follow.

Boy Instead of Birds Shot.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4.—A special to The American from Trenton, this state, says: A party of small boys were out bird hunting yesterday, when one of the party threw up his gun hurriedly and let fire at a bevy of birds, and instead of a bird a boy fell dead, his brains splattering the leaves as he fell. It was Mark Crump, son of W. O. Crump, a leading jeweler here, who shot Charlie Barker, the only child of Mrs. Dolly Barker. The boys were only about 12 or 13 years old.

Murderer Captured.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4.—The man Smith, who killed City Marshal Williams, at Trenton, Ky., a few days ago, was captured yesterday at Dover. He was identified by the chief of police of Clarksville. The feeling at Trenton against Smith is very bitter.

Boat Burned.

CATSKILL, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The passenger boat City of Hudson, while lying at Catskill Point this morning, was burned. A lamp exploded while the watchman, the only person on board, was preparing his breakfast. Loss, $20,000.

Burned to Death.

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 4.—Nellie Blomberg, a domestic employed by Dr. A. E. Wallace, accidentally dropped a lighted lamp last night. The oil ignited, and the frightened girl attempted to smother the flames with her dress. Her clothing caught fire and she was so badly burned that she died from her injuries this morning.

New York's World's Fair Fund.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The world's fair guarantee fund subscriptions now amount to $2,000,000.

It has been held by not a few that meat eaters are more liable to cancer than vegetarians; in fact, the latter think that by living on a purely vegetable diet they are safe from that dread malady. It has been found from the records of the Mayo hospital at Jeypore, India, that in 103 cases of cancer which were operated upon, 41 were on the persons of flesh eaters, while 62 were on those of strict vegetarians, who had never eaten meat since their birth.—Boston Herald.
